Roosevelt Outlines Enormous Production Program for War Materials; Pledges Victory

Puts 1942 Plane Goal At 60,000

President Says Output of Planes in 1943 Will Be 125,000; Tanks, 75,000

Tells Sacrifices

Victory Road Means Path of American Sacrifice

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt promised Congress and the nation today that the war would end in victory and outlined a tremendous production plan embracing an output of 125,000 planes, 75,000 tanks, 35,000 anti-aircraft guns, and 10,000,000 tons of shipping in 1943.

For this year—1942—he declared that “we shall produce 60,000 planes, 10,000 more than the goal set a year and a half ago,” 45,000 tanks, 20,000 anti-aircraft guns and 8,000,000 deadweight tons of merchant vessels.

In a grimly worded message delivered in person to a joint session of the Senate and House, the Chief Executive declared that the task was hard and unprecedented—and the time short.

He spoke of sacrifices to come and said that it would appear in his budget message tomorrow that “our war program for the coming fiscal year will cost 56 billion dollars or, in other words more than one-half of the estimated annual national income.”

“This means taxes and bonds and bonds and taxes,” Mr. Roosevelt asserted. “It means cutting luxuries and other non-essentials. In a word, it means an ‘all-out’ war by individual effort and family effort in a united country.”

The Chief Executive mentioned American reverses at the outset of the conflict, but he declared that “powerful and offensive actions must and will be taken in proper time.”

The consolidation of the united nations’ total war effort against our common enemies is being achieved, the President said.

That was the purpose, he explained, of conferences which have been held during the past two weeks here, in Moscow and in Chungking and was the primary objective of the declaration of solidarity signed in Washington at the start of the new year by 26 nations united against the Axis forces.

“The militarists in Berlin and Tokyo started this war,” the Chief Executive charged sternly. “But the masses, angered forces of common humanity will finish it.”

Not in Defensive Spirit

The war cannot be waged in a defensive spirit, the President declared, adding:

“As our power and our resources are fully mobilized, we shall carry the attack against the enemy—we shall hit him and hit him again wherever and whenever we can reach him.

“We must keep him far from our shores, for we intend to bring this battle to him on his own home grounds.”

Wherever in the world it seems advisable to engage enemy forces, Mr. Roosevelt said, American armed forces must be used. The operations in some cases are to be defensive and in others offensive with a view to complete encirclement and “eventual total defeat” of the foe.

“American armed forces will be on all the oceans—helping to guard the essential communications which are vital to the United States.”

“American land and air and sea forces will take stations in the British Isles, which constitute an essential fortress in this world struggle.”

“American armed forces will (Continued on Page Seven)

Reds Break Nazi Hold at Sevastopol, Gain at Mozhaik

Russian Warships Smash German Attempt to Move Forces in Kerch Area

(By The Associated Press)
Russia's long-besieged garrison at Sevastopol appeared to have broken German lines around that key Black Sea naval base today, while Soviet transports boldly attempted to land troops on the Crimean west coast 40 miles to the rear of the Nazi siege armies.

Front-line dispatches said Russian troops had sallied forth from Sevastopol, advancing at a number of points to smash German outposts and destroy fortifications.

At the same time, the Berlin radio acknowledged that the Red armies had broken “the German main line” before Moscow—perhaps referring to the vital Mozhaik sector, 57 miles west of the Russian capital, where the Germans have concentrated powerful forces.

A bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters, indicating that the Russians are now in full command of the Black Sea waters around the Crimea, said German warplanes bombed Soviet troop transports off Yevpatoriya, 40 miles north of Sevastopol.

The communiqué said three of the Russian transports were damaged and a protecting speedboat was sunk.

It seemed clear that the Russians, already over-running the eastern Crimea in a tempestuous counter-invasion, were seeking to gain a toehold on the west coast where they could trap the Germans by cutting off the escape route north to the narrow Perekop Isthmus.

Dispatches to the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said Russian troops which landed at Feodosiya, in the eastern Crimea, had reached the Sea of Azov, cutting off the entire Kerch peninsula.

Warships Play Part

Izvestia's correspondent said the Germans tried to snuff part of the Sevastopol forces to stem the Russian onslaught on the Kerch peninsula, only to meet a deadly hail of shells from Soviet warships and coastal artillery and bombs from Russian naval aircraft.

Council Meets Tonight

Aldermen Will Vote Upon Changes Made in Tentative Budget in Effort to Cut Tax to $43.96

This evening at the first regular meeting of the Common Council for the year the tax budget for 1942 will be presented by Mayor William F. Edelmuth. Since the first of the year the mayor has been working on the tentative budget filed with him by Mayor C. J. Heiselman the last week in December.

The tentative budget had fixed the tax rate at $45.49, but Mayor Edelmuth has eliminated from the tentative budget all increases in salaries, except those of the laborers employed by the Board of Public Works; the bonus of $100

Fights Off Seven-Hour Jap Bombing Attack

The Navy in Washington said that the small seaplane tender Heron successfully fought off a seven-hour attack by 15 Japanese bombers, bringing down one of the attackers and severely damaging another. The Heron sustained one direct hit and three very near misses but managed to reach port safely in the Far East.

New Oil Method Is Announced To Save Million Tons of Steel

‘Geodynamic Process’ Measures Oil by Gas Escaping Through Earth's Surface

State College, Pa., Jan. 6 (AP)—A new method of prospecting for oil was announced today by Dr. Sylvain J. Pirson, of the Pennsylvania State College, who asserted its use would save 1,000,000 tons of steel a year, “or enough to build 30 battleships of the U. S. S. Washington class.”

The associate professor of petroleum and natural gas engineering called his method the “geodynamic process” and said it had been successful in 80 per cent of its tests. The process was tried out last year in the northern Pennsylvania fields. He described it as based on measuring the amount of gas escaping through the earth's surface.

Geologists explained much steel is lost in tubing sunk for “dry” holes—those in which no oil is found—and that could be saved if advanced tests were adequate, showing up the presence of oil or lack of it before the steel was used.

2nd Ward Red Cross Workers Start Canvass

The American Red Cross War Fund drive opened in the Second Ward Monday evening, when volunteer workers assembled at the Y. M. C. A. at 7 o'clock. Approximately 1,500 cards for solicitation throughout the Second Ward were distributed.

Red Cross chapters throughout the county report wide response to the national drive. Many chapters in widely separated communities have already reported they had passed their goals.

Ulster county's quota is $45,000.

U. S. to Give Back Plant at Kearny

Knox Says Midnight Is Hour for Restoration of Federal Yards

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox announced today that the Kearny, N. J., plant of the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company would be returned to its owners at midnight tonight after 134 days of navy operation.

The return of the ship yard, which held $493,000,000 in naval and merchant ship construction contracts when the navy seized it on August 25 after a C.I.O. strike, was authorized by an executive order signed by President Roosevelt yesterday, Knox said.

The navy secretary, in a formal statement, said that “any unsettled issues between the company and the union should be settled by negotiation and agreement.”

If this proves impossible, he added, the parties should take recourse to the machinery established recently by Mr. Roosevelt for peaceful settlement of all disputes in war industries.

The navy took over operations at the Kearny yards August 25, President Roosevelt having ordered it August 23.

A strike of C.I.O. Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers started at the plant August 7. The union, claiming a membership of 16,000 among the 18,000 workers, contended that the management refused to grant a contract including a maintenance of union clause, as recommended by the defense mediation board.

As early as August 11, President L. H. Korndorff of the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock Company proposed that the navy take over and operate the shipyards in war industries.

Lack of Blanks Stalls Rationing Work in Ulster

Shultis States Shipment From Capital Is Due to Arrive Soon for County Use

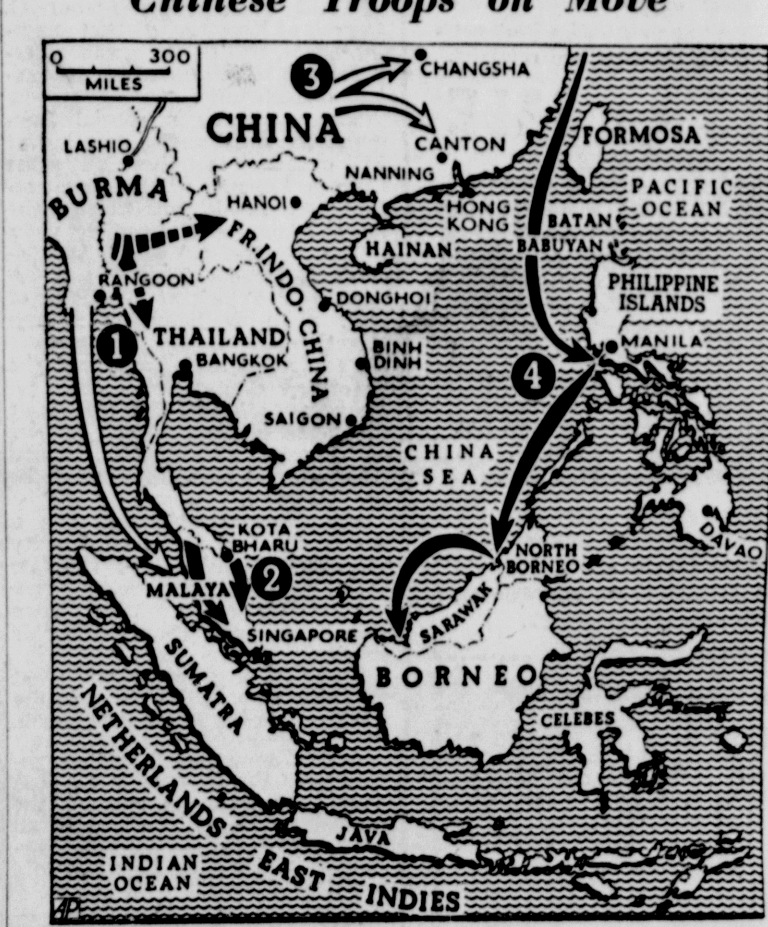

Tire rationing in Ulster county went into effect Monday morning but because of the lack of inspection blanks and application blanks for tires nothing could be done.

The work of determining the quota of tires to be allotted to the city and county is being worked out on the basis of cars registered.

Necessary blanks were shipped from Washington last Saturday and were expected in town Monday, but they had not reached town.

In order to secure a new tire an applicant must have his old tire inspected by a local inspector who, if the old tire is found to be beyond repair, will issue a certificate to the effect that the old tire is (Continued on Page 14)

Chinese Troops on Move

London heard reports that Chinese troops were on their way to Malaya, possibly by sea (white arrow, 1) to help block the Japanese drive (2) on Singapore. Burma reports indicated allied thrusts (broken arrows, 1) might develop in French Indo-China and Thailand. Meanwhile (white arrows, 3) said they had beaten the Japanese at Changsha and were striking at the enemy in the Canton area. U.S. Bombers Aid MacArthur Force North of Manila

American Anti-Aircraft Gunners Hit at Least Seven Japanese Planes in Raids; Battleship Damaged, One Destroyer Sunk

(By The Associated Press)
Imperial Tokyo headquarters let slip what seemed an admission today that Japanese troops have made little progress in attempting to drive Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces back into Batan Peninsula, and more good news came with the reported arrival of American aerial reinforcements in the Philippine conflict.

U. S. anti-aircraft gunners were officially reported to have hit at least seven Japanese planes during a four-hour aerial assault yesterday upon Corregidor Island fortress and Mariveles.

Mariveles lies at the southern tip of Batan Peninsula, near Corregidor Island at the entrance of Manila Bay.

A war department communiqué said 50 Japanese planes took part in the attacks but that “material damage and casualties were light.”

The war department added: “While ground activity was considerably less than on the previous day, enemy pressure is continuing on all American and Philippine outposts.”

Tokyo itself claimed no fresh gains.

“Japanese military aircraft cooperating with land forces on Batan Peninsula have bombed enemy concentrations at Rimai, Balanga and Subic,” a Tokyo communiqué said.

The key to the Japanese acknowledgment lay in the reference to Subic, which lies in Zambales province, six miles north of the Batan province border, at the head of Subic Bay.

With Gen. MacArthur's troops still holding Subic, it appeared to follow that the Japanese had failed to achieve any deep thrust into Batan, since a major advance would out-flank Subic's defenders and presumably force them to withdraw southward into Batan.

On the Malayan front, grave new reverses marked the British stand against Japanese invasion columns driving toward Singapore.

British Far East headquarters acknowledged that hard-pressed British troops had yielded further ground at both ends of the front, under Japanese attacks by land and sea.

On the Eastern side of the peninsula, a communiqué disclosed, the British were forced to retreat from Kuantan, only 190 miles north of Singapore, while on the west coast British troops made their second withdrawal in three days to meet a threat to their left flank.

London military quarters said Japanese capture of Kuantan would permit the invaders to send fighter escorts with bombers for more effective raids on Singapore itself. Observers also expressed fear that the loss of Kuantan would permit the Japanese to spread an “aerial umbrella” to protect further landing operations along the Malay east coast, sharply jeopardizing the British from the rear.

An official Tokyo broadcast said Japanese troops overwhelmed about 1,000 Australian soldiers in capturing Kuantan airdrome.

The British retirement on the Perak (Malay west coast) front followed a sea-borne Japanese attack on Kuala Selangor, 240 miles north of Singapore, threatening the communications of British troops battling some 60 miles farther north.

No Landings Reported

British headquarters said there had been no landings south of Kuala Selangor, however. All told, (Continued on Page Seven)

Park Sled Runs Are Open Under City Supervision

The Lawton Park sled run and sledding areas at Hasbrouck Park opened today under supervision, according to announcement from the department of recreation. At both of these areas, facilities for sledding and skiing were reported as favorable.

The sled run at Lawton Park became popular to winter sports enthusiasts last winter when the run was lighted up for the first time for after-dark activities and with the opening of the new winter lodge house there. The lighting system will be turned on at this area Wednesday night, and will be kept lighted thereafter so long as sledding and skiing conditions are good. In addition to this, the lodge house will be kept open and heated, and will contain adequate facilities for social recreation programs.

The success of lighting the area at Lawton Park last season, led recreation officials to ask for lighting facilities at Hasbrouck Park. The installation work was completed at the downtown park this fall, and the area will be lighted early next week, after the lamps and reflectors have been connected.

Although only two of the local areas will be supervised for sledding activities, parents are urged to instruct their children to use park and playground areas where ever possible for sledding purposes. Most of these areas have adequate sledding facilities for small children and are safe from the dangers of automobile traffic. The first social recreation program at the Lawton Park lodge house will be held this evening by a group of young men and women from the St. James Church. A section of the lodge house is available for party groups and clubs for social recreation purposes and may be reserved upon application to the Department of Recreation.

Mayor Asks Red Cross Support In Proclamation

"Generous and unstinted support" of the American Red Cross in the drive for $50,000,000 now under way for war relief purposes was urged yesterday in a proclamation issued by Mayor William F. Edelmuth, Ulster county's quota in the fund is $45,000. Contributions to this fund will represent your tangible share in our mighty battle for freedom, for justice and for the very survival of our nation," says the proclamation, which reads in full as follows:

WHEREAS the people of the United States and their armed forces, following a direct and unprovoked attack by an alien power, have entered with determination upon a state of war; and

WHEREAS expansion of our Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard, and of our war industries will proceed upon a scale unprecedented in our history; and

WHEREAS American citizens are suffering great injury and property loss from air attack and are in need of direct and immediate help; and

WHEREAS further preparations must be made to protect American cities and American populations from unnecessary suffering during air attack or disaster caused by sabotage; and

WHEREAS the American Red Cross is the only organization in our land equipped and ready, first, to provide welfare assistance to the men who are defending our country at home and overseas, through the services of Red Cross field directors, volunteers and blood donors; second to assist

American evacuees from danger zones; third, to further equip communities with trained Red Cross Motor Corps, Canteen Corps, Nurses Aide Corps, First Aid units, and other vital rescue corps instrumental in saving human life; fourth, to bolster the strength of the nation and the nation's war effort by such service as Accident Prevention, Disaster Relief, Home Nursing and Public Health Nursing; fifth, to train our young people in the paths of service and good citizenship through the medium of the Junior Red Cross; and

WHEREAS such a program as outlined above will necessitate the expenditure of large sums of money;

THEREFORE, I, William F. Edelmuth, Mayor of Kingston, N. Y., call upon the members of my community to give through our local Red Cross Chapter their generous and unstinted support to the American Red Cross emergency fund of $50,000,000 as outlined in President Roosevelt's recent proclamation. This fund not only will aid the national Red Cross to expand its services, place them upon a war basis, and permit this great organization to play its traditional role in saving life, and in helping our country achieve its final victory, but also will aid our local chapter in meeting its war-time public service obligations; and I further proclaim that your contributions to this fund will represent your tangible share in our mighty battle for freedom, for justice, and for the very survival of our nation.

Reorganize Holy Name Society to Strengthen Morale

First General Meeting of Delegates to Be Held on First Sunday in February

In keeping with the vast material re-organization now going on in our country to meet the trying needs of defense, Archbishop Spellman has called for a re-organization of the Archdiocesan Holy Name Society to strengthen morale and spiritual values. He has entrusted this work to the Very Rev. Monsignor Joseph A. McCaffery, whom he has recently appointed as Archdiocesan Director of the Society. For weeks all available agencies have been laboring on plans for the first general meeting of all delegates to be held on the first Sunday of February.

The first executive meeting towards this reorganization was held at the Commodore Hotel last week when Archbishop Spellman presided over the committee. Those in attendance were: The Very Rev. Msgr. Joseph A. McCaffery, spiritual director, the Right Rev. Msgr. Joseph P. Donahue, vicar general of the archdiocese, the Right Rev. Msgr. Gaetano Arcese, chairman of the Priest Committee, and the chairman of the eight geographical divisions, into which the Archdiocese has been divided.

Those divisions together with their chairmen are as follows: Lower Manhattan, the Right Rev. Msgr. Ercole J. Rossi.

Upper Manhattan, the Very Rev. Msgr. William R. McCann.

Bronx, the Very Rev. Msgr. Michael A. Reilly.

Staten Island, the Right Rev. Msgr. Joseph A. Farrell.

Westchester, the Right Rev. Msgr. Joseph A. Breslin.

Poughkeepsie, the Very Rev. Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly.

Kingston, the Very Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury.

Rockland, the Right Rev. Msgr. Henry O'Carroll.

A special division known as the vocational division is to be under the chairmanship of the Very Rev. Msgr. Joseph F. Flannely.

The Holy Name Society is well known in New York through its vocational branches, such as the Police Holy Name Society, the Firemen's Holy Name Society, etc., and the 300 parochial units which exist in the Archdiocese of New York.

"The spiritual work of this society is now to be intensified and extended," according to Monsignor McCaffery, "so that Catholic manhood may become a spiritual bulwark in our defense efforts."

credit its task," the correspondent said.

On the Central front, the long-lying arm of the Soviet counter-offensive was reported sweeping the Germans back upon Kursk, 280 miles below Moscow and about 100 miles south of Orel.

Soviet dispatches said that Red army troops who routed the Germans from Tim, 40 miles east of Kursk, were advancing rapidly and that the road in this sector was littered for 15 miles with Nazi corpses, shot-torn cars and trucks.

"The Germans did everything to retain this line," the Russians said. "A unit commanded by Dobrovolsky outflanked the Fascists and penetrated their rear."

On the Leningrad front, the Russians painted an equally brightening picture, declaring that Red army troops back by American-made fighter planes had recaptured 300 square miles of territory and 30 villages in five days after crushing a German offensive.

Four Curtiss Tomahawks, manufactured in the United States, were credited with shooting down eight Nazi Messerschmitts without loss to themselves.

The Berlin radio, admitting that the Russians had cracked the main German line on the central (Moscow) front, said heavy losses had been inflicted on the Soviet forces and that German troops had recaptured the lost ground.

Fierce Pressure Exerted

Russian troops were reported exerting fierce pressure on the German stronghold at Mozhaisk, striking from a 160-mile encirclement arc with spearheads at Staritsa, on the upper Volga 125 miles northwest of Moscow, and Kozelsk, 140 miles to the southwest.

Other Soviet columns were supporting the gigantic "squeeze" from intermediate bases at Volokolamsk, Narafominsk, Borovsk, Maloyaroslavets and Kaluga.

London military quarters said some of the bloodiest warfare of the entire campaign appeared to be developing in the Mozhaisk sector.

On the North African front, slashing rainstorms slowed operations, but British middle-east headquarters reported that British imperial troops were "successfully active" in attacking German-Italian forces around Agadabia, 90 miles south of Bengasi.

Undisclosed numbers of Axis prisoners continued to flow back to prison camps in Egypt as British forces mopped up isolated German and Italian centers of resistance around Salami, on the Egyptian-Libyan frontier.

Premier Mussolini's high command said violent artillery duels raged all day yesterday in the Salami area as well as in the Agadabia sector, 300 miles to the west, and reported that Axis planes hammered British troop concentrations.

Dr. Otto Dietrich, Nazi press chief, told Germans meanwhile in an article published in all German newspapers that Hitler had remained steadily at his headquarters in eastern Europe since the Russian war started June 22, without leaving for more than one-day trips.

German authorities in Paris reported two more bombings there in addition to that which caused the fixing of a partial 5 p. m. curfew during the week-end. One of the explosions happened in a German bookshop in the Champs Elysees district and the other in a German soldiers' club, the authorities said.

Free French in the recently seized French colony of St. Pierre-et-Miquelon announced they had no intention of evacuating the islands they seized a week-ago, to the embarrassment of the United States state department, which said an agreement neutralizing French Atlantic possessions was violated.

Reuther Visits Production Plants Of Auto Industry

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, C. I. O. automobile union leader who contended a year ago that unused machine tools in automobile plants could be put to production of 500 airplanes a day, has started a tour of war-production plants to determine where idle automobile machine tools may be put to the best war use.

Reuther is accompanying Lieut. Col. A. Robert Ginsburgh of the office of Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson, at Patterson's request, and tomorrow they will visit the Mack Truck Company's plant at New Brunswick, N. J.

Later they will visit the Empire Ordnance plant at Philadelphia, American Car and Foundry at Berwick, Pa., and the Oldsmobile and A. C. Sparkplug plants at Detroit. They have already studied the Chrysler tank plant at Detroit.

A member of the one-day-old automotive labor-management committee, Reuther met with it today as it started converting the entire motor industry to war production under government orders to double armament production over the peacetime rate.

Two Local Girls Injured in Crash

Machine Skids on Road and Hits Embankment

Thomas J. Cully, 18, of 161 Bruyn avenue, Monday night filed at the sheriff's office report of an accident on Route 32 that morning in which two girls from Kingston were injured and four others, all students at New Paltz Normal School and passengers in the car, escaped injury.

The accident happened about 8 a. m. south of the Rosendale bridge, near the Van Kleeck residence, as the group was on its way to the school at New Paltz. The car skidded on the icy pavement, left the roadway and turned over against a slight embankment. Drivers and passengers crawled out from the wrecked car and went to the Van Kleeck home, where Dr. Virgil DeWitt of New Paltz treated Margaret LaTour of 299 Hasbrouck avenue for a broken collar bone and Margaret Feeney of New street for a bruise on the head and a slight injury to one knee.

Other passengers in the car, who reported no injuries, were: Margaret Ambrose, 206 Washington avenue, Ida Sonnenberg, 66 Spruce street, Bernice Weaver, 112 Foxhall avenue, Helen Geary, 11 Park street.

Cully reported that his car had the top damaged, body dented in and windshield broken.

BUT CAN HE SWIM?

Here is a man in a bathing suit. That much is fact. The label that calls him a life guard is only his own or someone else's opinion. You need to know the fact that lifeguards at this beach must pass strict examinations before they wear the label.

Please get this difference firmly fixed in your mind: FACT is one thing; OPINION, another.

Now every day your newspaper MUST bring you many facts and also many opinions. That is what newspapers are for. That's what the day's news is—the actual happenings and what the editors, the experts, the bystanders and others THINK of what goes on.

From FACT plus OPINION you get the information every free citizen must have to govern himself. The ADVERTISEMENTS in your paper are fact and opinion, too. They are the news of goods and services, backed by the opinions of merchants, manufacturers and the like. From them you get the news that helps you use your own free choice to get the most for your money.

You can't run away from FACTS. And you need OPINIONS of all kinds and from all sides, if you are going to go on living in a DEMOCRACY. But keep them CLEARLY SEPARATED.

Suppose your newspaper lost its right to bring you news of all kinds.

You'd certainly find yourself behind the eight-ball!

Farm Bureau Unit Has Busy Session

Committee Takes Steps to Be of Assistance in Area Defense

The Executive Committee of the Ulster County Farm Bureau had a busy session Monday evening. Many important national defense items were discussed and plans made to help Ulster county farmers adjust their business to the war emergency. This included complete support for the farm machinery program sponsored by the State Agricultural Defense Committee, support of the tire rationing program, and complete co-operation with the housing survey being carried out by the Food and Shelter Division of the Ulster County Defense Council.

This was also the organization meeting for 1942 and DeWitt G. Crowell of Wallkill was re-elected chairman of the Farm Bureau executive committee. Arthur W. Kurtz of New Paltz was elected vice president and Elmer Fisher of Highland, secretary.

The following resolution regarding the tire rationing program was unanimously adopted: Whereas the Office of Production Management has found it necessary to ration the use of new rubber tires; Therefore be it resolved that the executive committee of the Ulster County Farm Bureau hereby urges the fullest possible support of any steps necessary to conserve our rubber supply; And be it further resolved that farmers be urged to conserve the use of tires in every possible way and that neighbors make plans to use trucks and cars co-operatively as much as possible. All partial loads of such articles as milk, feed, eggs, supplies, etc., from neighboring farms should be combined into one load whenever possible, thus saving tires, time and gasoline.

The importance of producing more foodstuffs with less labor and less new machinery, was emphasized. The importance of taking better care of machinery, ordering replacement parts early and planning every possible labor saving device, were recommended. Letters, news articles, meetings and demonstrations are being planned by the Farm Bureau to help farmers meet this situation.

On Friday evening, W. T. Hookey of Lake Katrine, chairman of the County Agricultural Defense Committee, has called a meeting of representatives of various organizations to launch the farm machinery program. A special arrangement has been granted to carry out the intensive machinery program throughout the state. The importance of repairing machines and implements early, so as to save time when field work starts, is more essential now than ever before. The labor situation will be studied and steps taken to relieve any serious shortages for planting and harvesting.

Those present at the meeting included chairman Crowell, John L. Schoonmaker of Accord; L. B. Davis, Olive Bridge; George Saile, Saugerties; W. T. Jenking, Clintondale; Elmer Fisher, Highland; and E. W. Hathaway of Kingston, treasurer of the Association. Albert Kurdt, county agricultural agent; Cyril C. Small, assistant county agricultural agent; and Ralph Barrett, county administrative assistant were also present. Walter Clarke of Milton, the new member of the executive committee could not be present as he was attending a meeting of the State Agricultural Conservation Committee in Ithaca. C. C. DuMont, president of the Farm and Home Bureau and 4-H Club Association, could not be present because he was attending a meeting of the American Farm Bureau executive committee in Washington, D. C. Other directors who could not be present were: Arthur W. Kurtz of New Paltz and Willis Myers of Saugerties.

Pastor to Leave Church He Served Half Century

Action to make effective severance of pastoral relations between the Rev. J. Scott King and the Little Britain Presbyterian Church, was taken on Sunday when the congregation met in special session following the morning service and voted to accept with regret Dr. King's resignation, effective March 1.

The Rev. Dr. King has served as pastor of the Little Britain Church for more than half a century. Elder Frank Agor was elected a commissioner to take the resignation to the meeting of the North River Presbytery on January 13 in the Highland Presbyterian Church, and to request the Presbytery to join with the congregation in dissolving pastoral relations.

Sunday's action was taken in compliance with the request made by Dr. King several weeks ago. The Presbytery will also be asked to name Dr. King pastor emeritus of the Little Britain church.

Beardall Appointed

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Capt. John Beardall, President Roosevelt's naval aide, has been appointed by the navy to succeed Rear Admiral Russell Wilson as superintendent of the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Beardall, who is 54 and whose promotion to the rank of rear admiral is now before the Senate, is expected to take over the new post at the end of January. Wilson was relieved two weeks ago to become chief of staff to Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet.

History Alone Can Judge Extent of Nazi Rout Abroad

of this is, of course, that the Nazis have been caught terribly unprepared to fight in the Russian snows. It is now clear that it was this unpreparedness, and the consequent perils, which brought about the split between Hitler and his high generals and forced him to assume command himself. Commander-in-Chief von Brauchitsch reportedly insisted on withdrawing to winter lines at the time when Hitler insisted on continuing the drive to capture Moscow.

Only History Can Say

From the military standpoint von Brauchitsch undoubtedly was right. But it seems to me that only history can say whether Hitler wasn't right in making his colossal gamble in trying to take the Red capital. At that precise juncture it was imperative for political purposes that he either take Moscow or create the impression that he was about to do so. He had to pull Japan into the war to ease his own position which he could see was becoming perilous. There can be no doubt that Nippon's expectation of the fall of the Russian capital persuaded the Japs to go ahead with an attack for which they were prepared but which they might not have undertaken had they known Hitler's weakness.

Today Dr. Otto Dietrich, Nazi press chief, tells us of "the enormous burden of work resting on the Fuehrer's shoulders" and says that "as commander in chief of the German army the Fuehrer is unable to leave headquarters for more than a single day." And no wonder.

From Leningrad on the north to the Crimea on the south the German forces have been rocked back on their heels with terrible casualties. Their lines have given way to a depth of a hundred miles or more in places. Losses of war material have been mountainous. British aviation experts estimate that the German air force has been reduced 35 per cent from its top strength.

Claims Former Advances

Moscow claims further advances today, which are especially notable in the vital Leningrad and Crimean sectors. In the Leningrad zone the Reds report that in five days they recaptured 300 square miles of territory. And four months ago the Nazis were announcing to the world that Leningrad already was in the sack—even took newspapermen up to that front to see the fall of this gateway to the Baltic.

The German reverse at Leningrad is rapidly getting so serious that the position of the Finns in their war on Russia may become untenable. As a result there are reports that Finland may be preparing to make a separate peace. This new-born attitude of the Finns obviously doesn't overlook the fact that the on-rushing Red tide may once more break heavily against their country.

Whether Hitler succeeds in averting a great debacle, his Russian campaign has weakened Germany immeasurably and has raised havoc with his once well-nigh perfect fighting machine. The Fuehrer had figured on a quick conquest of Soviet territory, thereby gaining wheat and oil and other resources which he badly needed. Instead the fruit of his early triumph over the Bolsheviks has turned to ashes in his mouth.

However, some of the Hitler luck has stuck to him, for his success in fooling the Japanese into joining his "winning" forces on the battle-field has been a lifesaver to him.

Aliens Turn in Firearms And Radios to City Police

Although a copy of the federal order issued by Attorney General Francis Biddle requiring all aliens to turn in to police headquarters all cameras, short-wave radios and firearms owned by them, has not as yet been received at the Kingston police department, Chief of Police Charles Phinney said today that many aliens of the city were already complying with the order.

Aliens bringing the articles mentioned to police headquarters receive a receipt for them, and all articles are tagged and will be kept by the police department for the duration of the war.

Chief Phinney said that several of the aliens in the city, as soon as they heard the President's proclamation, made haste to comply with it by calling at police headquarters with whatever short-wave radios, cameras or firearms they possessed.

DO TIME FOR LOVE

By WATKINS E. WRIGHT

YESTERDAY: Lavinia has just about forsaken men for her career in a big department store, and partly to please her Aunt Dorcas, who is one of those women who dig up relics and hunt big game. But today Lavinia is out with Freddy, because Freddy has a car and can save her a long subway ride. For Lavinia, much to the disgust of Zoe, her roommate, wants to visit both the Bronx Zoo and the Brooklyn Museum. And Freddy only wants to have a drive, and dinner.

Chapter Five

Stack Of Bones

THEN, searching Freddy's face, she said: "Freddy, tell me something!"

"Sure, Lavinia—what is it?"

"Do you take the Armworth girls out in alphabetical order?"

"That's a heck of a thing to ask a man."

"Well, all I know is that you take a lot of them out. And it would seem that you're going through the alphabet again. Zoe beginning with Z, you know—and now me. You've gotter back to the L's again."

"It happens that I like the company of girls," said Freddy. "And I like you more than any of the others."

"Are you sure it's not your vanity that motivates you, where

"All right," Lavinia said, turning reluctantly away from a mass of bones that didn't seem to make sense. "I must come over here again when I have more time. And if Aunt Dorcas ever comes back to the States, I'll bring her over."

"What for?" said Freddy. "She couldn't shoot a stack of bones or could she?"

"It happens," said Lavinia with dignity, "that Aunt Dorcas has helped dig up specimens just like these."

"Why?"

"Because she was employed by a group sent out by some museums. Didn't I show you the article about her in The Geographical News?"

"No."

"Well, that told about some of her experiences. Besides, I've got a snapshot of her showing her pulling a bone out of a pile of dirt. I'll show it to you sometime."

"Do that," said Freddy. "by all means. But just now I'd like a T-bone steak. Do you mind?"

"No," said Lavinia. "I'm beginning to get hungry myself."

"That," said Freddy, "is the sanest thing you've said all afternoon."

The Kiss

WHEN they were out of the Museum, Freddy took a deep breath. The open air felt invigorating after being shut up in a

And then he kissed her—

"I'm concerned," said Lavinia. "I mean—being a man—you couldn't bear to have a girl hold out against your charm. And because I did hold out, it—well, it fired your determination, or stubbornness, or whatever you want to call it."

"Listen, Lavinia, you're talking a lot of," Freddy said. "You've been reading too many books. And let me tell you something. Never go in for analysis when with a man, or you'll kill all the romance in the end."

"That's exactly what I want to do," said Lavinia. She drank the last of her soda, and pushed back her chair. "That was nice and refreshing, Freddy. Thanks, a lot."

"Here's where we depart for Brooklyn, I take it," said Freddy without enthusiasm.

"Yes," said Lavinia, "it is. And you're being terribly nice to me—driving me over there."

"Forget it," said Freddy with a sharpness in his voice.

How About Food?

BACK downtown, across the bridge, and on to the Brooklyn Museum. A guard told Lavinia where she would find the skeletons she sought, and she hurried off, Freddy trailing along beside her, feeling rather like a lot of excess baggage.

"Oh, look!" Lavinia exclaimed. "A perfect specimen of Dinosauria!" She pointed to a skeleton that towered high above them—a skyscraper of bones that made Freddy fairly shudder. "And, for goodness sake, it used to roam around down in North Carolina. And I've been thinking you had to go thousands of miles to find them!"

"North Carolina!" Freddy exclaimed. "Don't tell me a mess of bones like that once roamed my native state?"

"It says so—right here," said Lavinia, motioning to a framed description which stood nearby. "It was also found in Mississippi. But this one is a beauty."

"If that thing's a beauty," said Freddy, "I'm Robert Taylor."

Lavinia paid no attention to such irrelevance, and moved on to another skeleton. She appeared to be fascinated, as she gazed at one monstrosity after another. And as she gazed at the monstrosities, Freddy gazed at her—puzzled, wondering. Sometimes he caught himself thinking that Lavinia was probably putting on an act. And then when her exclamations sounded so sincere, he didn't know what to think.

An hour passed. Another one started.

"Lavinia," Freddy said, "I've got a corn, and walking on these hard floors is killing me. How about some outdoors, and some food?"

building with a lot of musty, dead things. He threw back his head, and broke into song. Lavinia watched him, thinking that he wasn't at all bad-looking, and wondering just what sort of a wife he had. He must have been married awfully young, or else he hadn't had his wife with him very long.

She fought a purely feminine curiosity, an urge to ask Freddy some questions about himself and Mrs. Rand. But she didn't. It was none of her business, and for years she had been training herself not to do the purely feminine thing.

"There's a place near the ocean," Freddy said, "where we can dance in between courses. How about it?"

"I'm a terrible dancer," said Lavinia.

"You don't look like that sort of a person," said Freddy.

"I've been too busy trying to make a living and go places in business to learn dancing, and bridge—and things like that."

"Well, no time like the present to start learning," Freddy told her. "We'll try some steps—and I've a hunch you underestimate your social graces."

But he was wrong. Lavinia didn't underestimate her social graces. She was a terrible dancer, and she did Freddy's corn no good. He was astonished. He hadn't believed that any girl of today could be so utterly useless on a dance floor.

"I warned you," Lavinia said, when she found herself out of step for the twentieth time. "Let's go back to the table."

"Okay," said Freddy, relieved. And when they were seated, he said: "You ought to take some lessons. Dancing always comes in handy, in case you go to a hotel or something for a vacation. You'll have a dull time of it, if you don't dance and play bridge. Men will shun you like lord knows what."

"Which won't bother me in the least," said Lavinia. "I generally spend my vacations at some quiet place where I can get caught up on all the newest books."

"I see," said Freddy dryly. "You prefer to read about romance, and not live it."

"Romance doesn't interest me, printed or otherwise," said Lavinia. "You might as well know now as any time, Freddy, that I intend to go on in the business world. And sentiment and business never mix."

They went out to where Freddy had parked his car. Freddy looked around. He saw that no one was nearby. And he took Lavinia in his arms and kissed her.

Bird Cheers Red Cross

Betty, a carrier pigeon, flew six hours from a ship at sea, to bring cheer and encouragement to the Red Cross drive in Sydney, Australia. The message was sent by soldiers and airmen aboard the ship. Betty is descended from Snow White, heroine of World War No. 1. A companion of Snow White also had a notable war record. It was carrying a message from the front line in France when a bullet broke its leg and drove the metal carrier into its body. It struggled home delivered the message, and died.

"V's" Contest In Size

Workmen at the Rosherville Quarries, near Johannesburg, South Africa, claim they have the biggest V in the country, a claim contested by Springs. Made of white stones on the ground, and visible from the air, it is 50 feet long and 40 feet wide. Springs was advertised as having a 30-foot sign, but declares it is 75 feet in height. East London has an official "V for Victory" sign. It is a huge V in scarlet, above the City Hall steps, and is floodlit to stand in a blaze of scarlet light.

Roosevelt Outlines Enormous Plans

help to protect this hemisphere—and also bases outside this hemisphere, which could be used for an attack on the Americas."

In these terse paragraphs, the President gave a sketchy picture of possible operations of another American expeditionary force and of possible occupation of strategic bases across the seas which otherwise might be used as jumping off places for onslaughts on this hemisphere.

For Terror Alone
Any long range bombing raids on America by "suicide" squadrons of enemy planes from Europe or Asia, Mr. Roosevelt predicted, will be attempted only in the hope of terrorizing our people and disrupting our morale. But our people are not afraid of that, he remarked.

"We know that we may have to pay a heavy price for freedom," he continued. "We will pay this price with a will. Whatever the price, it is a thousand times worth it."

"No matter what our enemies, in their desperation may attempt to do to us, we will say as the people of London have said, 'We can take it.' And what's more, we can give it back—and we will give it back—with compound interest. "When our enemies challenged our country to stand up and fight, they challenged each and every one of us. And each and every one of us has accepted the challenge."

Important Passages
Some of the most important passages from the President's address follow:
"Japan's scheme of conquest goes back half a century. It was not merely a policy of seeking living room: It was a plan which included the subjugation of all the peoples in the Far East and in the islands of the Pacific, and the domination of that ocean by Japanese military and naval control of the western coasts of North, Central and South America."

"The development of this ambitious conspiracy was marked by the war against China in 1894; the subsequent occupation of Korea; the war against Russia in 1904; the illegal fortification of the mandated Pacific islands following 1929; the seizure of Manchuria in 1931; and the invasion of China in 1937."

"A similar policy of criminal conquest was adopted by Italy. The Fascists first revealed their imperial designs in Libya and Tripoli. In 1935 they seized Abyssinia. Their goal was the domination of all North Africa, Egypt, parts of France, and the entire Mediterranean world."

"But the dreams of empire of the Japanese and Fascist leaders were modest in comparison with the gargantuan aspirations of Hitler and his Nazis, x x x x
"With Hitler's formation of the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo alliance, all these plans of conquest became a single plan. Under this, in addition to her own schemes of conquest, Japan's role was to cut off our supply of weapons of war to Britain, Russia, and China—weapons which increasingly were speeding the day of Hitler's doom. The act of Japan at Pearl Harbor was intended to stun us—to terrify us to such an extent that we would divert our industrial and military strength to the Pacific area, or even to our own continental defense."

"The plan failed in its purpose. We have not been stunned. We have not been terrified or confused. This re-assembling of the seventy-seventh Congress is proof of that; for the mood of quiet, grim resolution which here prevails, bodes ill for those who conspired and collaborated to murder world peace."

"Powerful and offensive actions must and will be taken in proper time."

"For the first time since the Japanese and the Fascists and the Nazis started along their bloodstained course of conquest they now face the fact that superior forces are assembling against them, x x x x

The militarists in Berlin and Tokyo started this war. But the masses, angered, forces of common humanity will finish it."

Victory for Freedom
"They know that victory for us means victory for the institution of democracy—the ideal of the family, the simple principles of common decency and humanity."

"They know that victory for us means victory for religion. "And they could not tolerate that. The world is too small to provide adequate 'living room' for both Hitler and God."

"The superiority of the United States in munitions and ships must be overwhelming—so overwhelming that the Axis nations can never hope to catch up with it."

"War costs money, x x x x this means taxes and bonds and bonds and taxes. It means cutting luxuries and other non-essentials. In a word, it means an 'all-out' war by individual effort and family effort in a united country."

"Speed will save lives; speed will save this nation which is in peril; speed will save our freedom and civilization—and slowness has never been an American characteristic."

"We must keep him (the enemy) far from our shores, for we intend to bring this battle to him on his own home grounds."

"American armed forces must be used at any place in all the world where it seems advisable to engage the forces of the enemy. In some cases these operations will be defensive, in order to protect key positions. In other cases, these operations will be offensive, in order to strike at the common enemy, with a view to his complete encirclement and eventual total defeat."

American armed forces will operate at many points in the Far East."

American armed forces will be on all the oceans—helping to guard the essential communications which are vital to the United Nations."

American land and air and sea forces will take stations in the British Isles—which constitute an essential fortress in this world struggle."

American armed forces will help to protect this hemisphere—and also bases outside this hemisphere, which could be used for an attack on the Americas."

If any of our enemies, from Europe or from Asia, attempt long-range raids by "suicide" squadrons of bombing planes, they will do so only in the hope of terrorizing our people and disrupting our morale. Our people are not afraid of that. Our enemies, in their desperation may attempt to do to us—we will say, as the people of London have said, 'We can take it.' And what's more, we can give it back—and we will give it back—with compound interest."

"Many people ask, 'when will this war end?' There is only one answer to that. It will end just as soon as we make it end, by our combined efforts, our combined strength, our combined determination to fight through and work through until the end—the end of militarism in Germany and Italy and Japan. Most certainly we shall not settle for less."

"But we of the united nations are not making all this sacrifice of human effort and human lives to return to the kind of world we have after the last World War. "We are fighting today for security, for progress and for peace, not only for ourselves, but for all men, not only for one generation but for all generations. We are fighting to cleanse the world of ancient evils, ancient ills."

"There never has been—there never can be—successful compromise between good and evil. Only total victory can reward the champions of tolerance, and decency, and freedom, and faith."

Aid for Taxpayer Is Noised About On Capitol Hill

Coudert Would Permit Deduction of Federal Taxes in State, Meet Tomorrow

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 6 (AP)—Scores of proposals designed to bolster the State's defenses and soften war's blow to the taxpayer claim immediate attention of New York's legislature convening tomorrow.

Lawmakers arriving for the 165th annual session already have drafted bills to put teeth in Civilian Defense regulations, liberalize labor laws, mobilize freshmen for service outside their communities in an emergency and double penalties for crimes committed during blackouts.

Senator Frederic Coudert, Jr., New York Republican, announced he would introduce a bill to permit state income taxpayers to deduct federal income tax payments in preparing their returns.

The measure, he said, would be submitted after a conference with Senate leaders "in the hope that it may be possible to re-arrange state finances so as to eliminate a practice that offends the taxpayer's sense of fairness."

He is resigned to the necessity of war taxes, Coudert said, "because he knows that the war must be won at any cost. He is not resigned, however, to paying a state tax upon money which he has actually paid out to the treasury of the United States."

The proposal, which opponents have asserted will cost the state upwards of $30,000,000 in revenue and cause taxpayers to pay heavy levies on the money saved them, was one of several financial measures lawmakers expected would stir up a "political money battle."

Republican majority leaders contended a budget battle, such as characterized the last three legislative sessions, is "highly improbable." Nevertheless, they insisted, close scrutiny would attend every bill calling for non-defense expenditures.

Accordingly, they promised the public again would have "its say" on the proposed 1942-43 state budget which Governor Lehman must submit to the legislature before February 1. A public hearing on the financial program, they added, will be held probably in mid-February.

Defense legislation scheduled for early introduction in the forthcoming session includes measures, prepared by legislators and labor leaders, legalizing a longer work day and work-week for both women and men in defense industries.

One plan would mandate a system of permits under which the industrial commissioner may authorize war production plants to operate on a seven-day week and on a 24-hour a day basis.

Senator Phelps, New York Democrat, declared he will introduce a bill tomorrow legalizing regular deductions of a stipulated percentage of the salaries of state employees for investment in national defense stamps and bonds.

Details of such a deduction, State Comptroller Joseph V. O'Leary said, already have been completed. The plan is voluntary and is scheduled to begin January 15. The state's annual payroll is about $85,000,000.

Other defense measures ready for early introduction would: Authorize the governor to establish blackouts anywhere in the state he deems it advisable, or upon request of military authorities.

Empower state health agencies to establish areas requiring special administration because of air raids or other disasters or where armed service centers have increased the population to a possible "danger point."

Republican Senate Majority Leader Joe R. Hanley and Republican Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, arranging for the opening session at which the governor will read his annual message to the legislature, will be hosts at dinners tonight to Republican majority members.

Praise From Italy
Rome, Jan. 6 (AP)—Agency to AP—The Turin newspaper La Stampa in an editorial today commended General Douglas MacArthur's "resistance, courage, energy and obstinacy" in the American commander's defense of the Philippines. "Events have shown that, if he is not abandoned by his native troops, he will prolong his resistance," the article declared.

When you have read this newspaper, save it for defense.

Tokyo Admits Gains Slight

The British so far have been forced to yield approximately 200 miles of the Malayan coastline.

As the battlelines drew slowly near to Singapore, Japanese bombers again attacked the great stronghold's 400,000,000 fortifications, inflicting slight damage, and pounding nearby Johore.

In the Philippines, Tokyo headquarters reported the sinking of 10 ships and the destruction of 146 trucks in aerial attacks on Gen. MacArthur's forces since Friday.

For Americans, however, these blows were more than offset by the exploit of U. S. army bombers in sinking a Japanese destroyer and scoring three direct hits on a Japanese battleship in Davao Bay, Mindanao Island, 600 miles south of Manila.

The battleship was the third reported sunk or damaged by United States forces.

A communique said all the bombers returned safely to their secret base after the attack. It was the first mention of American air activity in the Philippines in many days, and apparently was the first installment of aid to American-Filipino defense forces which had previously been reported "on the way."

The 840-ton U. S. seaplane tender Heron was safe in a Far Eastern port after shooting down a four-motored Japanese flying boat and damaging another during a seven-hour attack by 15 Japanese bombers. She suffered some damage herself.

American Fliers Busy
British sources credited six American volunteer fliers in Rangoon with shooting down at least two more Japanese bombers during a Sunday attack against Burma by 27 Japanese planes.

Three American planes were lost but their pilots escaped. BBC said American volunteers previously had destroyed 60 Japanese bombers while losing four planes and two pilots.

Domei, Japanese agency, reported the Japanese already were drawing oil from 80 of the 100 damaged oil wells which retiring British forces left in their hands in Sarawak, Borneo.

Chungking claimed Japanese troops had been driven back 10 miles from Changsha, Hunan province.

ince capital. The Japanese, on the other hand, claimed occupation of Changsha.

A Chungking military spokesman said 40,000 Japanese troops were caught in a Chinese trap on the plains northeast of Changsha, and said Chinese forces were confident of wiping out most of them.

The spokesman, estimating that Japan had suffered 30,000 casualties in the battle before Changsha, declared that only 30,000 of the original Japanese force of 100,000 had escaped toward their jumping-off point at Yochow, 100 miles to the north. Water-filled rice fields bogged the Japanese retreat, he said.

Condemns Japanese
Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull strongly condemned today Japanese treatment of white civilians in occupied Manila, where the war department reported the Japanese had threatened to shoot any white person appearing on the streets.

In reply to a question as to whether he could make any further comment on the situation in Manila, the secretary said: "To make a war of extinction on all helpless and innocent men, women and children other than Asiatics is descending to the lowest, possible level of animal savagery."

Brent-Sheridan Nuptials
Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 6 (AP)—Moviedom's "comph girl," Ann Sheridan, and actor George Brent honeymooned today in this Florida resort after they surprised Hollywood by marrying. Their romance had been declared "on and off" many times by gossip writers. The couple arrived by train yesterday from Hollywood.

Members Initiated at Jr. D. A. R.

Postage Stamps Collected

The Junior Chapter D. A. R. held its regular monthly meeting at the chapter house, January 5. The following new members were initiated into the group: Mrs. G. Herbert DeKay, Mrs. Samuel Austin Kennedy, Mrs. Richard Whiston, Miss Marion Schwenk, Mrs. John J. Schwalbach, Miss Hester Sleight, and Miss Katherine Sleight.

The chapter has been asked to save cancelled postage stamps of all kinds which will be sent to Queen's Hospital in a poor section of London which cares for wounded children of the bombed areas. The dyes are extracted from the stamps and are sold earning money to pay for the work in caring for these children. Any one wishing to contribute stamps may give them to D. A. R. members or send them to Mrs. G. H. DeKay, 54 Linderman avenue.

A dessert bridge party will be held at the chapter house, Wednesday, January 28. The following committees have been appointed: Mrs. Walter Perret and Mrs. Conrad J. Gross, co-chairmen; food, Mrs. Harry Rigby and Mrs. F. Gardner Burns; candy, Mrs. Warren Russell and Miss Dorothy Davis; miscellaneous, Miss Isabel Herdman, Mrs. Richard Whiston, Mrs. G. H. DeKay, Miss Mary Hubbard; reservations, Mrs. Claire Sheaffer and Mrs. Walter Perret. The group was delightfully entertained by the Quiz Kids of Kingston: Miss Katherine Nagy, Leonard Rubin, Valdo Vigliani and Paul Beschgorian. Honors were won by Miss Nagy.

After the meeting, the hostesses, Mrs. John Garon and Mrs. Edwin Strong served buffet refreshments in the dining room.

Southern Mountaineers Is

Topic at Olympian Club

Olympian Club met yesterday at the home of Miss Irene Goodsell, 86 Crane street. The paper for the day was given by Miss Anna McCullough who chose as her topic, "The Southern Mountains and the Mountaineers."

In developing her subject, Miss McCullough said that the Southern mountains are about 700 miles in length covering eight states. There are more than 6,000,000 people in that region. The first white residents came from Ireland in 1727 filling six ships. Most of the mountaineers are of Irish descent and the setters came to this country for religious freedom. The people liked the country and kept pushing farther back into the mountains. Through the generations much of the culture and education was lost but always this group have proven to be staunch Americans. Seven presidents came from this region. One of the finest examples was Sgt. Alvin C. York.

Miss McCullough also told of the things that are being done for these people. She spoke of John C. Campbell and his Folk school, the Berea College which specializes in the teaching of handicraft, weaving, and spinning, and of Martha Perry, a southern aristocrat who had done much to build up the morale of these people.

The next meeting will be January 19, at the home of Miss McCullough.

Birthday Party

A birthday party was given Saturday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Houghtaling at 66 Hunter street, to celebrate the fifth birthday of their son, Jack. Games and singing were the program for the afternoon for which awards were made to James Sass, Jack Peters, and Jack Houghtaling. At 4 o'clock refreshments were served. Those attending were Phyllis and Jack Peters, Betty Anee and Arthur Steltz, Mathilda Short, Jerry Houghtaling, James Millsap, Jr., James S. Joseph Schneider and John Woods, Jr.

Highland Soldier to Marry

New York, Jan. 5 (Special).—A license to marry was obtained in the Municipal Building here today by Benjamin Edwin Hewitt, a soldier, of Highland, and Miss Erna Regina Hoffman, of 1726 Second avenue, New York. The couple stated they would be married tomorrow in Ulster county by a justice of the peace.

Mr. Hewitt, the son of Benjamin E. and Catherine Mackey Hewitt, was born in Highland. The prospective bride, daughter of Ernest Wilhelm and Jennie Gottlieb Hoffman, was born in Miami, Fla.

Junior League Votes Money,

Equipment for Emergency

Mrs. Harry LeFever, Jr., was hostess yesterday at the Junior League. At the meeting the members voted to give $100 to the Red Cross for its emergency drive. This sum is to be taken from the fund raised by the personal dues of the members. The equipment that was originally used at the Junior League Well Baby and Prenatal Clinics is to be offered to Dr. Snyder for use by the emergency medical unit.

At this meeting the two new members welcomed into the league were, Mrs. Walter Perret and Mrs. John Van Gonsic. The people who assisted the hostess by pouring were Mrs. Newton Fessenden and Mrs. William A. Warren.

Tea at Women's Club Meeting

There will be a tea, following the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Women's Club Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Leonard Flicker is chairman and she will be assisted by Mrs. John Herlihy and Mrs. R. Frederic Chidey.

Troop No. 5 Party

The holiday season has been an extremely busy one for Troop 5. On December 18, the Mountain Laurel Patrol had their Christmas party at the Parish House, inviting as their special guests, Mrs. Parker K. Brinnier, Girl Scout Commissioner for Ulster county, Mrs. Jesse Freese and Mrs. Eugene MacConnell. The girls then put on a short entertainment and then welcomed Santa Claus. Janet Hornbeck played this part beautifully and remembered everyone. Refreshments were served from a tea table presided over by Mrs. E. Manos and Mrs. Clarence Hyde.

On December 29 this patrol sang carols at the Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals.

Christmas Eve, the Cardinal Bird Patrol sang carols on the radio for the Tuberculosis Committee and December 29, entertained the patients at the Tuberculosis Hospital with a short program. John Buchholz, Frances Levan and Ruth Alvard had the speaking parts, while the balance of the patrol formed an invisible choir singing carols throughout the skit.

This program was repeated at the Home for the Aged the next afternoon and was followed by

SEERS INFORMATION ABOUT

THROWING RICE

Everyone knows that the Hindu custom of throwing rice, has come to mean "good-bye and God bless you" to the bride and bridegroom from their best friends, who stay on at the reception in order to pellet them thoroughly when they start on their honeymoon. "But when," asks a letter today, "there is no wedding reception except for the immediate families and two wedding attendants, and the only time even their best friends can shower them for good luck, is as they walk from the church to their car, what can they do to delay them at the church door so that they can't come down the aisle and drive away before any of their friends can catch up with them?"

The answer is that they should follow the neighborhood custom of waiting at the back or in the vestibule of the church after the ceremony to receive their friends' good wishes and to be pelleted when they leave.

Returning First Visits

Dear Mrs. Post: (a) When moving into a new neighborhood, how soon should one return a neighbor's call and how long should one stay? (b) If, before returning her call she invites me to a tea, and I go, does this count as a returned visit?

Answer: (a) you ought to return someone's first visit within a week. The conventional length of such a visit is about twenty minutes. This means that you might stay less, but you should not stay longer — unless your conversation is really interesting and you are begged not to go. (b) Yes.

Employer Is Right

Dear Mrs. Post: In letters he dictates, my employer frequently refers to his wife as Mrs. and to the wife of the man to whom he is writing the same way. Shouldn't he say "my wife" and "your wife"?

Answer: In business, John A. writes about Mrs. X and also Mrs. A. Socially, when he is writing or speaking to Henry he may also say "Mrs. X" or "your wife," but he speaks of his own wife as "my wife" to acquaintances, and as "Mary" to their friends — even to those who do not call her by her first name.

The important point to make is that Mrs. A's speaking of her husband as John, at his speaking of her as Mary, does not grant permission to that to, to begin saying John or Mary.

Trinity Lutheran Church Holds Its Annual Meeting

The 93rd annual meeting of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone street, the Rev. Frank Lawrence Gollnick, pastor, was held Monday evening, January 5, in the Church Assembly Hall.

The meeting was conducted by Oscar J. Lawatsch, president of the congregation. The reports of all the church organizations showed them to be in a splendid condition. The church treasurer, Fred Paulus, reported that the church was in excellent financial condition with no indebtedness and a considerable balance on hand.

Oscar J. Lawatsch was unanimously re-elected president of the congregation. The following church councilmen were elected: Fred Ahlers, Charles Baxter, Ralph Finnigan and Percy Slover for a period of three years; Arthur Eymann and Herbert Reuner for a period of two years.

Plans were formulated to keep in touch with the men from the parish who are serving their country in the army and navy. The church council was empowered by the congregation to proceed with the obtaining of plans for the redecoration of the interior of the church. The present officers of the Church Board are: Fred Ahlers, president; Charles Baxter, vice president; Lee Gregory, secretary; Fred Paulus, treasurer. The newly elected church councilmen will be installed in office on Sunday, January 11.

COOKBOOKLET OF THE WEEK

VARIETY OF APPETIZERS WITH EGGS SUGGESTED IN BOOKLET

Fritty paper cases add an extra fancy touch to Egg Appetizers. There are many luscious hors d'oeuvres and canape suggestions in the new Egg Recipe booklet, latest release in our series.

Egg appetizers are not only delicious, but they can be made to look so beautiful, your hors d'oeuvres will create a pleasant sensation. The latest Freeman Cookbooklet release presents an interesting section on appetizers and canapes using eggs for spreads, fillings, hors d'oeuvres and other snacks.

Whether you are seeking an appetizer to precede a large meal or a variety of little snacks for tea or cocktails, you'll surely want to include many of these egg suggestions. They're colorful—they're easy to make—and they're delicious.

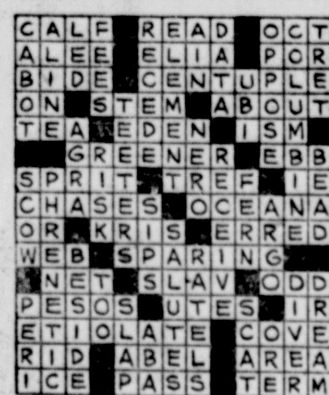

Egg and Ham Hors D'Oeuvres
5 hard cooked eggs
1 teaspoon minced chives
1 or 2 drops Tabasco sauce
Salt and paprika
Mayonnaise
Boiled ham (½ pound)
Separate yolks and whites of eggs. Force yolks through sieve. Add chives, seasonings and mayonnaise to moisten. Beat to a smooth paste. Chop egg whites and ham together. Mix with yolks. Form into balls 1 inch in diameter and garnish with additional mayonnaise. Makes 20 balls.

An elegant appetizer for a very special occasion is this one that serves 12:

Jellied Canapes
½ tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup boiling water
½ teaspoon horse-radish
Few grains salt
4 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in boiling water. Cool; add remaining ingredients except eggs. Pour into shallow pan. When it begins to thicken, arrange center slices of eggs over surface, spacing evenly. Chill until firm. Cut sections from gelatin with egg in center and serve on buttered crackers or cold toast rounds.

Besides a valuable variety of appetizer recipes there are egg suggestions for omelets, pancakes, entrees, custards, souffles, salads, soups, salads, sauces, garnishes and beverages... 300 different recipes in all.

Bicycle Days Are Here Again

Ratio to Autos Found to Be About One to Every Three.

WASHINGTON.—In a civilization dominated by automobiles, streamlined Diesel trains, and giant airliners, the bicycle is staging a remarkable recovery of popularity, according to the department of commerce.

The bicycle's reappearance recalls its prominence 40 to 50 years ago, back in the "gay nineties," when the cycle was almost a family necessity. Then the automobile appeared and the bicycle almost vanished from the United States, except for its use by children.

This contrasted with some parts of Europe where adults and children alike were making constant use of the bicycle as a major means of transportation.

European governments promoted the bicycle as a substitute for the automobile and thus as a means to conserve gasoline, it is said. The manufacture of cars required steel that was badly needed for guns and the countless machines that give the modern army its great speed and precision.

'Wheels' Popular in Capital. The United States government is not subsidizing its bicycle manufacturers, but the curtailment of passenger automobile production is in its own way encouraging civilians to return to their "wheels."

Even here in the capital city, the use of bicycles is on a noticeable increase. Though few people, even now, come to work in this manner, the parks and shady roads on the outskirts of the city are sometimes packed with cyclists. The rental of "wheels" for amusement has become a profitable enterprise.

Government clerks, students, even officials are using the bicycle for pleasure.

The commerce department expects an unprecedented demand on bicycle manufacturers—a demand that plants with their present facilities might not be able to satisfy.

The industry is in a favorable position with reference to raw materials, it said. Crude rubber for tires can be obtained, and as for metal, 2,000,000 bicycles would require only 35,000 tons. This is negligible if compared with large quantities of such materials needed for manufacture of automobiles, the department pointed out.

10,000,000 in Use. Officials estimate that 10,000,000 bicycles are in use in the United States today, a ratio of about one to every three automobiles. The 1940 production is estimated at 1,325,000 and this year the production probably will show a sizable increase, they said.

The American bicycle has never been an object of foreign trade principally because it is much heavier than those manufactured in Europe and Japan and the consumer abroad refuses to purchase it. In countries where the bicycle is used extensively for transportation, it has been found practicable to keep its weight at a minimum.

The American bicycle has many attached devices, such as multi-speed, brakes, horns, tool boxes, balloon tires, headlights and sometimes even gasoline motors.

Bicycle production has been on an increase in America since 1932 when manufacturers inaugurated a campaign to show the value of the "wheel" as a means of transportation, health and pleasure.

One of the important factors contributing to the industry's growth has been the youth hostel movement. In Europe this system of inexpensive, supervised, overnight accommodation for hikers and cyclists proved popular and after being introduced in the United States in 1934 has grown into a major organization.

Kingston High at Liberty for DUSO Contest Friday Night

Maroon Quintet Seen as Winners As Loop Resumes

Redskins Have Dropped Three Straight in DUSO League; Maroons Seek Leadership

Following a long Christmas and New Year's holiday recess period, the DUSO Basketball League will resume operations Friday night. Local color is pointing to the Redskins and Liberty clash at the Redskins' court.

On the season to date, the Maroon and White basketball teams will be heavy favorites. In two games the Klammer team has beaten Port Jervis and dropped a close decision to the powerful Middletown squad.

On the other hand the Redskins have no such record. Ellenville spanked Liberty in the first game, 24-14. Monticello eked out a 22 to 20 win over the Redskins. Finally, Newburgh polished off the mountaineers by 38 to 10 in the last bit of action before the New Year.

This last drubbing at the hands of the Hill City cagers perhaps tells the real strength of the Liberty club. In some unknown manner the Redskins managed to get through the Ellenville and Monticello games in easy style. But Newburgh really lit in.

Apparently, the saga of the great teams that represented Liberty have fallen from view. There's no more "Yutch" Meadows, Hasbroucks, Don Crooks and the like. Younger members have tried to fill these large shoes. The task has been a big one, perhaps too big.

The same has been true in most schools. However, some of these said schools have been a little more fortunate in getting together some athletes who could take the place of the mighty veterans.

Not Too Easy
Although Liberty has dropped three straight contests in the DUSO League circuit the outfit has a few cagers who have the potentialities of making it hot for the other league aggregations.

Number one is George who so far has scored 17 points in three games. Another is Manchester, the Liberty center. He has collected 11 markers.

The Kingston stronghold has three likely looking cagers who figure to go a long way for a Maroon and White victory. Kingston lost its first game to Middletown (35-31) but it was a tough break. Kingston then walloped a hapless Port Jervis quintet.

The trio of cagers who might make the Maroons a tough team this year are George Zelle, Rod Sagendorf and Captain Ray Herick. All three have scored 12 points in two games. Kingston can climb on the heels of the league-leading Monticello team this week with a victory over Liberty.

While Kingston has been idle since its game with Port Jervis December 18 at the municipal auditorium, some of the other teams have been getting in some competitive action.

Last Friday night the power-laden Middletown team scored its fourth straight win in a non-league game by humbling Huntington, Long Island, by 48 to 28. Bill Vernooey paced the winners with 15 markers. Jim Edwards had 11 for the Middies.

In Monticello the league-leaders turned back Spring Valley by 16 to 19. A steady attack with eight of nine players figuring in the scoring, helped Monticello to its triumph.

Santa Anita Off Because of War
Top Stars Plan Shift to Southern Parks

Los Angeles, Jan. 6 (AP)—Denied a shot at the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap in March, Mioland, Chilledon and Pictor will try to salvage half that amount in Florida.

With Santa Anita's $1,000,000 racing season finally cancelled because of war conditions, a few rich owners plan to ship their top stars to Miami, New Orleans or Hot Springs, Ark.

Charles S. Howard's Mioland yesterday was topweighted at 128 pounds. The $50,000 winner stakes at Hialeah Park March 7. His Porter's Chap, W. L. Brann's Pictor and Chilledon, prepping for a comeback, and Gustave Ring's Cis Marion are other Anita residents eligible for the Widener.

Hines Is Named P. G. A. Head; Succeeds Dudley

Los Angeles, Jan. 6 (AP)—Jimmy Hines, Garden City, Long Island, has been named chairman of the Professional Golf Association's tournament committee. Hines succeeds Ed Dudley, Colorado Springs, new P.G.A. president.

Other committee members are Olin Dutra, Los Angeles; Leo Diegel, Philadelphia; Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa.; Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y.; Craig Wood, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Mark Fry, Los Angeles; Tom Mann, Boston, Mass.; Wally Mount, St. Paul; George Schneider, Ogden, Utah, and Larry Nabholz, Dallas.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 6 (Wide World)

At least two of the proposals the football rules committee has under consideration were tried out in the Southwest last fall. In a good many college games subs were allowed to report to any official instead of just to the referee and witnesses said it kept things moving right along. Coach Warren Woodson of Hardin-Simmons used intra-mural games to try out the stunt of allowing a scored-on team to have its choice of goals and thinks it worked well. Pete Reiser will get the J. Louis Comiskey Memorial award as the outstanding 1941 rookie at the Chicago Baseball Writers' dinner to night. Then he'll probably have to explain what he was doing on a stage fixed up like an old-fashioned saloon. California papers claim Chicago is in too big a hurry about bidding for the National Amateur Golf, scheduled for Pebble Beach, Calif.

In his stories in the Cleveland Plain Dealer on the career of Larry Lajoie, Eugene J. Whitney reveals that the Indians' first "Cry Baby" act took place in 1907, when Larry was manager. Several players decided in mid-season that the club ought to have a new pilot and when First Baseman George Stovall was suspended after a run-in with Lajoie he complained to President John Kilgory. The complaint didn't get far.

Postman's Paragraph
Fred Digby of the New Orleans Item reports that his paper, as well as the Times Picayune, got out a big Sugar Bowl section and that the football game was a sell-out three weeks before either of them appeared. The item, incidentally, claims the Sugar Bowl as its own baby because it boosted the show when other papers laughed. W. George Bleackley of Waterford, N. Y., who calls himself a self-appointed soccer booster, points out that Victor McLaglen, Buff Donelli, Jimmy Wilson, Pete Reiser, Joe Triner, Nelson Rockefeller, and Charles Evans Hughes, Jr. are just a few of the prominent names that have been connected with the game.

Buddy Baer Explains Why He Doesn't Fear Joe Louis

20,000 Fans Are Expected for Fight; Jacobs Is Shooting for $200,000 Gate

By SID FEDER

Lakeview, N. J., Jan. 6 (AP)

Jacob (Buddy) Baer is a simple soul with a simple philosophy.

So when he sits down for a chat and tells you, matter of factly, that he can't see what he has to worry about from Joe Louis, you have to come pretty close to believing him.

He tells you this, mind you, in a tone about as worked up and tense as a fellow asking "please put a head on my beer." The big guy is no more scared than a Wake Island marine.

This is definitely not a fighter giving his courage a shot in the arm with big talk. It's not brother Maxie Baer, loud-talking for weeks before his big flop-over with Louis and then resting on one knee shaking his head as the referee asked him to get up. If Buddy is afraid of what might happen in his nose-flattening fight with Louis in Madison Square Garden Friday night, then he ought to have Barrymore's profile because he's every bit the actor.

"Look," he explained today as he started tapering off for his second crack at the heavyweight title, "I took Joe's Sunday shots last May and I'm still alive. Right? Well, then, knowing that, all I have to do is go in there and toss punches, or if Joe tries to make a boxing match out of it, I'll dance right along with him. Only if it's that kind of a thing it's going to be a real stinkeroo."

One way or the other, there's going to be quite a gathering of folks giving it the double-O. Promoter Mike Jacobs wouldn't be at all surprised if the Garden bulges its walls housing some 20,000 customers for this tea-party. Right now, he's shooting at a gate of more than $200,000.

Of this, the Navy Relief Fund will be the big winner. Mike and Joe are giving their shares, and Buddy, who figures to need a little ready cash for arnica and assorted liniments after it's over, is turning in a good chunk of his cut.

No one except a fellow named Buddy Baer is giving Buddy Baer much of a chance of making the bomber's 20th title defense his last.

Switzerland will take a census of all farm tractors that may be converted to the use of generator gas.

When you have read this newspaper, save it for defense.

Seattle, Jan. 6 (AP)—Al Hostak, one-time World Middleweight Champion, will pick up a rifle January 15 as a member of Uncle Sam's army.

Off on Tour
Manhattan, Kas., Jan. 6 (AP)—Coach B. R. Patterson and his 11-man Kansas State wrestling team were off today on a 3,000-mile jaunt which will take them to the mat with four of the nation's top flight teams.

The schedule includes Franklin Marshall, Lehigh, Michigan and Michigan State.

John Hancock, Big Six Conference Heavyweight Champion and star football player, was left behind with an ailing knee, injured during the grid season.

All Home Games
Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 6 (AP)—St. Peter's High School will play the rest of its basketball games at home, the road schedule has been cancelled.

"School buses," said the Rev. J. A. Vogelweid, with an eye to the tire shortage, "will be used only to transport students to and from school."

Ships May Bring Butter
Use of Danish ships laid up in Argentina to send butter to the United States is urged by Ramiro Jouan, chairman of the Industrial Dairy Center in Buenos Aires. In a note to the Ministry of Agriculture he points out that British butter imports from Argentina have been greatly reduced; that the American market offices unlimited possibilities, and that the Danish ships, besides supplying badly needed tonnage, are specially built to carry frozen cargoes.

Stays the Same

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Nat Holman, basketball coach at City College, isn't going to change his coaching system just because western teams romped over Metropolitan fives in holiday double-headers at Madison Square Garden.

"Their one-handed shooting and galloping up and down the floor sure got results," said Holman, whose team lost to Wyoming, "but we have to come pretty close to believing him."

"I was a hard game in those days," said the astute Okeson, present chairman and a member for 20 years of the National Collegiate Football Rules Committee, in session here. The group expects to conclude its meeting tonight.

"But in those days," he continued, "the man carrying the ball seldom ran more than two yards before he made contact with the opposing team. He had no blockers. His teammates were all behind him pushing."

"And contrary to general opinion, a man seldom was hurt in the pileups, where there might be as many as all 22 players. Moleskin vests and heavy pants protected the player against slugging or kicking if an adversary were able to move a muscle in the tangle."

"Today a ball carrier may get up full steam, and usually does, before making contact. He gets hit in the open far more than before. He has men clearing the path in front of him, and that contact comes at full speed."

The rules committee chairman said it was amazing that critical injuries and fatalities these days are negligible compared with yesterday's casualties. He attributed this to light, improved equipment and better developed athletes, trained in body coordination.

There was not a single college football fatality last season, Okeson recalled that one year along about 1905, there were 32 deaths, and where there was one college team playing then, there are 100 today.

"I tell that year brought down public wrath and almost ended the sport. Eighteen state legislatures had bills under consideration to make football either a misdemeanor or a felony."

Okeson Tells Coaches Grid Game Is Much Harder Today

Rulemaker Amazes Pilots at Football Session in Arizona; Contact More in Present Day

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 6 (AP)—Harking back over nearly 50 years of college football, the gentleman from Lehigh University observed that if old timers thought the game was rough, they ought to play it today.

Surprised at that? So were several of Rulemaker Walter Okeson's listeners, who always associated the so-called good old days with the flying wedge and massed offense, shin guards, handlebar mustaches and a hospital.

"It was a hard game in those days," said the astute Okeson, present chairman and a member for 20 years of the National Collegiate Football Rules Committee, in session here. The group expects to conclude its meeting tonight.

Albany Hands 'Y' Team First Loss Of Year, 66 to 41

Vaunted Attack of Capital Cagers Rolls Over Local Team; Bock, Shultis Pace Losing Five

It finally happened to Coach Dick Thomas' Y. M. C. A. Varsity basketball team last night. Playing the Albany "Y" outfit, the local cagers were handed a 66 to 41 lacing to put an end to the nine game winning streak.

Albany's vaunted attack which was a known quantity before game time, proved to be just that. The upstarters rolled out a powerful laden crew of basketballers who had it all over Kingston last night.

Zaloga, Ray Maier and Anatas did the bulk of the scoring for the winning aggregation. The first two gleaned 14 points apiece. Markers found the hoop for 13 markers.

It was proven without a doubt that the locals' forwards are the only players supplying the offensive. Eddie Bock and Jess Shultis combined to score 25 of the 41 points. Bock had 13, Shultis 12.

In announcing the defeat this morning it was announced that a few of the "Y" players might be in for some pink slips soon. The offensive attack of the club, with the exception of Bock and Shultis, is decreasing. It was the team's first loss but still last night's contest wasn't the first when every player except the two named, failed to do much in the scoring line.

Albany returns to the Y. M. C. A. court Saturday night to play the local cagers. Castleton makes an appearance here with the American Legion quintet Friday night.

Movie Extra Rises
Examination of one of Mexico's first silent films, produced 22 years ago and shelved in a Mexico City warehouse after a limited showing, revealed that the extras playing a villainette is Vicente Lombardo Tello, up to last winter Mexico's labor czar as boss of the Confederation of Mexican Workers, and who has just been re-elected president of the Confederation of Latin American Workers. The picture was "Santa," (Mexican for "saintess") based on a classic Mexican novel.

Victory Will Enable Local Team to Take Over Third Place in League; Game Drawing Interest

With the opportunity of jumping into an undisputed berth for third place in the New York State Pro Basketball League hanging on the outcome of Wednesday night's attraction with the Glens Falls Lions, the Kingston Recreations are pointing for this game in an "all-out" endeavor.

The usual mid-week clash will take place at the municipal auditorium starting at 9:15 o'clock. Glens Falls comes to Kingston fresh from a 53 to 51 triumph over the Troy Pros. The Recs have won their last two, the most recent over Saratoga last Thursday night.

Recent action in the State League has thrown the standings into a wide open race for all teams. The Albany Senators are still out in front of the other clubs with a record of six triumphs and three setbacks for a .667 average. Saratoga is in second right on the heels of the Capital club.

Recs-Albany Sunday
Besides the Kingston-Glens Falls clash here Wednesday night, Troy will entertain Pittsfield at the Collar City. Friday night Glens Falls travels to Pittsfield and on Saturday the teams change courts with Pittsfield playing Glens Falls. Sunday night the Recreations engage Albany and Glens Falls goes to Saratoga.

The Kingston game with Glens Falls tomorrow night has a definite bearing on the standings. Turk Karam's Lions are in last place but there's still plenty of life in the Fallmen. Karam promises plenty of action.

Manager Jim McNally, who missed last week's game here with the Saratoga Indians, expects to be in uniform Wednesday. The Rec pilot feels optimistic about this week's battle with Glens Falls. "I didn't see the boys in action last week but from all reports, they gave Saratoga a bad night of it."

"Unless some unforeseen misfortune takes us before tomorrow's game," said McNally, "I look for a Rec victory." "The acquisition of Hagen Anderson has already proven a wise move. He should be a lot of help to us in the game to come."

The local pilot went on to rave about the recent showing of Jack McGuirk. "This boy is a ball player's ball player. Jack had some trouble getting started when he was used at center but now he's doing everything right." McGuirk has been a big factor in the recent victories of the local quintet.

No Changes Planned
Manager McNally isn't contemplating any changes in the lineup for Wednesday. Hagen Anderson and McGuirk seem set for forwards, Al Benson, center, and Jerry Rizzo and Jimmy Buckley at the backcourt positions.

With the promise that the manager himself will be on the floor for this game the Recs will be at full strength. McNally, Carl Maltano and Tommy Weems will be ready for reserve duty. However, unless changes are necessary, it isn't very likely that any of these will be used.

The one highlight of last week's contest which tabs the local team as a real contender for the first half championship, that of making a sizzling rally in the final period, puts the Recs on top of Glens Falls. However, it should be a thriller all the way.

He Got Rid Of Corporal

By a ruse a native sergeant of a French garrison in Somaliland got rid of a corporal who opposed going over to the Free French.

When Vichy started a scare that British and Free French troops had attacked in French Somaliland the garrison at Airogi wanted to join the Free French. One corporal objected. To get him out of the way the sergeant wrote he was being attacked and ordered the corporal to take the message to headquarters. Then the sergeant mustered the garrison and all crossed the frontier.

Cheese Makers Rushed

New Zealand's latest campaign for the increased production of cheese to be shipped to Britain is causing one of the greatest activities ever known in that country. Butter factories are being changed to cheese producers, which are put on a 24-hour schedule, and all available help is being recruited. Wellington reports that from 150 to 200 cottages are being erected near factories to house outside workers.

Tickets Available For Shriners' Ball At Several Places

For the convenience of those desiring to purchase single admission tickets for the big Shriners' entertainment and ball to be held Friday evening in the Municipal Auditorium for the benefit of the Industrial Home, the Shriners have placed them on sale at the following business establishments:

They may also be obtained from any Shriner or at their Shrine headquarters, 48 Main street. The Shriners say that by telephoning 2610 or sending a post card request for tickets will receive prompt attention.

The patron ticket sale is progressing satisfactorily. Ralph Cohen, chairman of the ticket committee states. The committee expects to publish the patron list within the next few days and urge that those who have not already sent in their check to do so as promptly as possible.

The various committees report that their plans are working successfully and Arthur A. Ewig, chairman of the music and entertainment committee, states that he will have some important announcements to make within the next few days as his committee is busy lining up some high class acts now appearing in New York.

The Shriners also announce that all men in the uniform of the armed forces of the country will be admitted free Friday evening and extend an invitation to them to be their guests.

Miss Mae Miller spent Sunday at the home of William and Viola Miller.

Mrs. Elmore Shipley, who has been ill at her home, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Margaret Swinton is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swinton.

There were no church services in either church Sunday, January 4, because of weather conditions.

Percy Gazlay of Montclair, N. J., who has been visiting relatives in town, was given a surprise party by the young people at the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Percy W. Gazlay, Saturday evening, January 3. During the evening games were played and music played and refreshments served.

Buried With Honors

Rome, Jan. 6 (Official broadcast recorded by AP)—An American pilot shot down in an attack on a Japanese air base was buried with military honors, a correspondent of the Tokyo newspaper Asahi reported from the Philippine Islands in a dispatch broadcast today by Stefani. The correspondent said the fallen flier was identified as Lieut. Russell Church, 25, of Clark Field, Northwest of Manila. "The wing of an American Plane was erected over his grave," the report said.

Campaigns for funds with which to purchase planes for civilian pilot training are being conducted in Brazil.

ACCORD

Accord, Jan. 5—Wallace Lawrence, Jr., now at Boston Navy Yard, spent the week-end with his parents.

Many family Christmas and New Year's dinners were served and family reunions held during the holiday season.

The Women's League of Accord will hold an evening of games at the Community House Tuesday evening, January 6, at 8 o'clock for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Among students who returned to their schools following the holiday vacation were: Miss Bella Cohen, Columbia University, New York; Harold Cohen, University of Alabama; Miss Mildred Cohen, State Teachers' College, Buffalo; Miss Elma Benton, Ithaca College, Ithaca; Mrs. Pierce Palmer, Cortland State Normal School, and Miss Charlotte Robinson, University of Vermont.

Mortimer H. Block has been ill at his home for the past week.

Henry Robinson is ill at his home.

Miss Mae Miller spent Sunday at the home of William and Viola Miller.

Mrs. Elmore Shipley, who has been ill at her home, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Margaret Swinton is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swinton.

There were no church services in either church Sunday, January 4, because of weather conditions.

Flashes of Life

Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Helping the Navy

South Bend, Ind. — Because he was 52, the navy wouldn't take William E. Olsen when he tried to reenlist after Pearl Harbor.

But since he was turned down, he's been back to the recruiting office 12 times, each time with a young man he'd persuaded to join.

The twelfth recruit had a bad tooth. Olsen took him to his own dentist to get it pulled.

Taking No Chances

Saugus, Mass. — This town's civilian defense committee has received an urgent plea from an excited woman that Saugus be declared an "open city."

She said she was disturbed because the call for 200 volunteer air raid wardens had brought only 25 responses. Saugus is a few miles inland from Boston Bay.

Fore!

Detroit — Charging that his wife hit him on the head with a golf club when he was unable to give her $100 she wanted, Louis P. Cleppe was granted a divorce from Elaine Pauline Cleppe, now of Hollywood, Calif.

"Was it a hole-in-one?" asked Circuit Judge Vincent M. Brennan.

"Yes, it was — one whack, and with a putter too," Cleppe replied.

Trans (Pacific) fusion

Honolulu — Sixty persons, arrested for gambling during the holidays, escaped fines and jail sentences by contributing to the island's emergency blood bank.

Got Yours?

Ely, Nev. — Toshimiro Mitsumata didn't complain when he was jailed along with 39 other Japanese on orders of immigration authorities.

Instead, he reached into an old suitcase he brought along, dug out $1,000 cash and bought U. S. Defense Bonds.

Record

Tulsa, Okla. — Firemen at station No. 2 went to the blaze, put it out and were back in the station—all in less than 15 minutes.

The fire (faulty wiring) was in the rear wall of station No. 2.

This Is War

Chicago — John Warneck, hit by an automobile, was taken to a hospital where physicians, after bandaging his more serious cuts, told him it was imperative he remain at the hospital pending X-rays.

"No", said Warneck. "I can't. I have to be at my steel mill by five in the morning to adjust the oil gage. This is war, you know." And off he went.

Restaurants Given Away

Chicago — When police raided his restaurant because it had a handbook where the kitchen should have been, James L. Stewart, who said he was the owner, gave this explanation:

"About three weeks ago, some one telephoned me and asks me if I want a restaurant for free. Then the caller says, go to 214 North Clark street and take it over. It's all yours." So I did."

Stewart was charged with disorderly conduct and ownership of the restaurant was investigated further.

Fire Guard Formed

Belfast, Northern Ireland, is organizing a huge army of fire-fighters to operate in every street. Ulster's Fire Guard is being formed into companies, 1,000 strong, each to be divided into groups who will appoint their own officers. The new organization will take in existing groups. Steel helmets are issued free to all who enroll, while stirrup pumps will be distributed to all fire parties. The companies will be given a short elementary course in air raid protection with particular attention devoted to incendiary bomb and fire control. Practice is obtained with demonstration fires.

"What's in it for ME?"

"When a manufacturer plans an advertising campaign the main thing I'm interested in is: What's in it for ME? And I have some definite ideas about the kind of advertising that does me the most good."

1. "Here's how I see it: I've been running this cash register long enough to understand pretty well how advertising works...and how newspaper advertising by the manufacturer brings in customers and rings up sales for me."

3. "Besides, when manufacturers advertise in the local papers, they can run my name and my address in their ads. That's the kind of support that really counts...because it tells the people in this town that they can buy the advertised goods at my store."

2. "From what my customers tell me, just about everybody reads the daily paper. More than that, they look for the ads in the paper and shop from them. The results I get from my own newspaper ads make me feel pretty sure of this, too."

4. "It all adds up to more business for manufacturers and for me when they reach all my prospects through advertising in the local newspapers. And what they do here they can do in every other town where they have or want distribution."

Small wonder this retailer is successful; he knows what's in it for him when newspaper advertising goes to work in his town. He knows that manufacturers produce more sales for their retailers...and themselves...when they advertise in local newspapers.

FAMOUS CHURCH PAINTINGS RESTORED

In the renovation and beautification of St. Mary's Church, which is now being completed, the Very Rev. Monsignor Martin J. Drury has restored the illustrious oil frescos on the sanctuary wall. Above the main altar, shown in the reproduction here, are the paintings in 1898 by the hand of the famous artist, Filippo Costagiani, who painted many of the historical subjects in the dome of the capitol at Washington, D. C. It was during the pastorate of the Very Rev. Monsignor Richard L. Burtzell, D. D., that a series of artistic paintings were added to the church together with the oil paintings of the Way of the Cross. These paintings and frescos have all been restored.

On the left in the above photo, which was taken from a point in the main aisle of the church, is depicted "The Presentation of the Child Jesus in the Temple" and on the right, "The Finding of Christ in the Temple." The stained glass window in the center represents "The Epiphany," which is celebrated today in the Catholic World, commemorating the visit of the three wise men to the Child Jesus.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Saugerties, Jan. 6.—The fire-fighting apparatus of Washington Hook and Ladder Co., and the R. A. Snyder Fire Co., are now in their new quarters at the new village building on Partition street. Other offices and equipment will be housed there as soon as the interior is completed.

The employees of the Diamond Mills Paper Co., held a meeting in the Mechanics Hall on Livingston street Saturday afternoon.

The annual investiture ceremony of Masters of the Masonic lodges of Greene-Ulster district was held in the Masonic Temple on Partition street last Friday evening with Edward Lutz of Prattsville, in charge. Past District Deputies and Past Masters assisted with the work.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Helen T. Kozloski of Green county to Frederick L. Hildebrandt of this village. The wedding date has not been set.

Miss Marie Oscar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oscar, of this village and a graduate of the Benedictine Hospital has enrolled as a Red Cross nurse. At the present time Miss Oscar is serving as supervisor at the Memorial Hospital at Catskill.

It was announced that the local post office did a record business during the Christmas holiday season with over 100,000 pieces of mail being canceled by the machine and a large increase of parcel post packages over past years.

The William H. Raymond Lodge I. O. O. F., has elected the following officers for 1942: Dr. James Crandall, noble grand; John Packman, vice grand; J. H. Hill, recording secretary; Nelson Van Bramer, financial secretary; Arthur Elmendorf, treasurer; Samuel Lerner, trustee. These officers will be installed by District Deputy Ernest A. Schirmer and staff Monday evening, January 19.

Mr. and Mrs. George Holmes and daughter, of Finger street entertained Mr. and Mrs. Percy Holmes of Catskill; Robert Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. George Woolley and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Holmes of Albany; Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes and son of Palenville and Mrs. Susie Anderson and John White of West Bridge street this village. Mr. and Mrs. Holmes and daughter have left for Florida where they will remain for the next several weeks.

beyond repair. This inspection certificate is presented to the rationing board and if the person comes within the preferred list and a new tire may be issued, then two members of the rationing board must certify to the need before a tire can be purchased.

Former Sheriff Edgar T. Shults is the county administrator and both the city and county local board will work under his direction. Applications have been received by the boards for new tires but the boards have been unable to act because of the failure of the necessary application certificates to arrive.

On a basis of registered cars the allotments will be made between the city and county board. With only 70 tires available for January for sale to owners of passenger cars and light trucks and 220 for heavier trucks, the tires available will have to be very strictly rationed and sold only to those who absolutely need them.

The inspection of worn tires will be made free at any of the inspection stations, and if the inspector finds the tire is beyond repair a certificate will then be issued to that effect. The final consent for purchase of a new tire, however, is made by the Tire Rationing Board when application is made for purchase after the inspection service has been performed.

Mr. Shults has opened a temporary office in the County Building on Main street, where the checking of motor vehicles was being done today in anticipation of fixing the quotas for the city and county boards. The city rationing office is located on the third floor of the city hall with Dominick Cioni in charge there.

Red Cross War Fund

A substantial contribution toward the $15,000 American Red Cross War Fund to be raised by the Ulster County Committee will help keep the fighting men, healthy, happy and efficient.

Use of Blow Torch Sets Fire to House in City

Workmen using a blow torch to remove the old paint from the house at 124 Smith avenue, owned by the Seventh Day Adventists, set fire to the woodwork of the front entrance to the house at 10:53 o'clock this morning, and the fire department responded to a telephone call for aid. The damage was slight.

The house is being remodeled for use as a church by the Adventists, and while the interior is being remodeled the exterior is being repainted.

The fire from the blow torch ignited the woodwork and the flames crept up under the porch roof, but the prompt arrival of the firemen soon brought the fire under control.

The pastor of the new church is the Rev. G. E. Appleyard of 11 Emerson street.
